8th Elets Knowledge Exchange Goa — Understanding the Digital Journey of Goa

Goa hosted the 8th edition of two-day Knowledge Exchange summit with a focus on digital transformation of the State which has largely been known as a tourism paradise of the country. Oganised by the Government of Goa in association with Elets Technomedia Pvt Ltd, a technology and media research company, the summit was inaugurated by Goa Chief Minister Manohar Parrikar. Governor Mridula Sinha also delivered a special address on this occasion.

The summit, held at Novotel Goa Resort and Spa, was a congregation of experts from government sector and industries who engaged in various segments of discussions and deliberations on the finest practices of the Digital India, especially in relation to Goa. The summit was participated by Goa's Minister of Information Technology Rohan Ashok Khaunte and Minister of Urban Development Fransis D'Souza.

Ameya Abhayankar, Secretary, Department of Information Technology, Government of Goa; and Padma Jaiswal, Secretary, Cooperation Department, Government of Goa; a shared their vision on ICT initiatives being implemented by the Government of Goa.

To share an international perspective on digital transformation, international speakers like Ulrica Sundberg, Consul General, Consulate General of Sweden; and Kalthoom Al Balooshi, Executive Director of Education Development, Knowledge and Human Development Authority (KHDA), Dubai, shared their country's success stories in this regard.

Various tech-leaders helping the Goa Government in digital transformation also presented their vision at the summit. Here are the glimpses of the summit:

Speaking on the occasion, Chief Minister Manohar Parrikar said "Goa is a place where knowledge can be exchanged in a leisurely fashion. You can establish any startup in Goa. It is the first State to start the cyberage scheme. It is the first State to build a digital highway through fibre optic cable. All the panchayats and schools have been connected through Internet. The one problem which Goa faces is the availability of land. Almost 62 per cent of the land is green and more than 33 per cent is covered under the forest area. There is riverline land, biodiversity land etc. The State Government wants to bring the best companies here." "This Government is committed to take quick decisions for businesses. We are doing well in ease of doing business criteria. We have already crossed 55 per cent of the criteria." By the next year, we will be in the top three states in ease of doing business ranking.
